Letter from the Advisor

To the Mount community,

Now, if you are reading this it means that our 2007-2008 yearbooks have gone to print with deadlines and sleepless nights (with pictures of layouts running through our heads) far behind us. Now, all those involved can bask in their glory of creating a piece of the college's history while you can relive the many wonderful memories made this year.

This year's yearbook, "From the Mountain to the Mansion" truly encompasses the Mount's tagline of "diverse, distinct and dynamic." Our students, like our faculty and staff, vary in background, culture and personality. No one person in our community is alike yet we all are in fact, quite dynamic. A common thread unites all of us while celebrating our differences and showcasing our individual importance. This thread is a commitment to learning and serving one another within the Mount community.

Each one of us whether we are in a teacher, advisory or student role teaches and in turn, is taught. Despite area of work or study, religion, gender or age, our Mount community highlights the very best in higher education and demonstrates that learning takes place both inside and outside the classroom.

Whether up on the Mountain or down by the Mansion, Mount St. Mary's College and this yearbook encapsulates the uniqueness, highs, lows and in-betweens that took place throughout the 2007-2008 academic year. Our yearbook also features the trends, current news and election process, in hopes that future Mount Community members understand this controversial yet exciting time in our nation's history.

On behalf of the 2007-2008 yearbook staff, I want to thank those who helped make this yearbook outstanding and contributed to making the process enjoyable and memorable for all involved. Thank you to the yearbook staff for your unwavering creativity, dedication and enthusiasm. You have left your mark at the Mount- be proud of your finished product!

Here's hoping this yearbook puts a smile on your face, laughter in your voice and memories to fill your mind and heart for years to come...

Go Athenians!

Graduating Class of 2008

"College is a time of excitement, exuberance and triumph, as well as one of anxiety, doubt and confusion. Sometimes you are ready to take the world by storm, other times you are left wondering whether you will ever be able to face the challenges that await you." ~ Chicken Soup for the College Soul

To the Graduating Class of 2008, congratulations! You've made it this far in your life and you are now ready for a new and exciting challenge. You are ready to take on whatever comes your way. At this point in time, you are at your strongest because you have seen your true accomplishments. Regardless of how much you have grown or how fast the real world has or will take you by surprise, you will never forget what you have learned in college.

As you stand on the brink of adulthood, you learn that inspiration is everywhere you look. Inspiration is the key to allowing yourself to be successful. Sure, you've had your ups and downs throughout college but who better to get you through them than your friends? The friends you meet in college will stick with you throughout your entire life. These friends are your inspiration to perform better and they support you because they understand what you're going through. These friends help us to remember the true meaning of "K.I.T"- Keep In Touch.

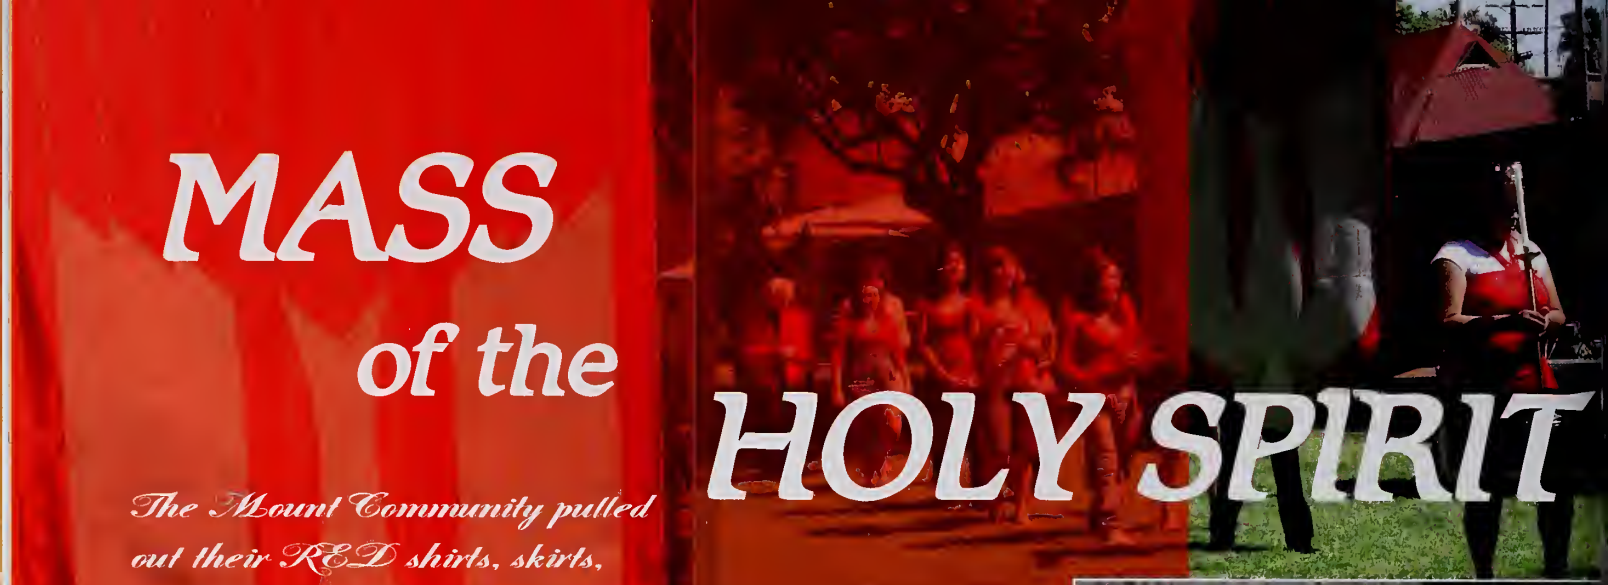
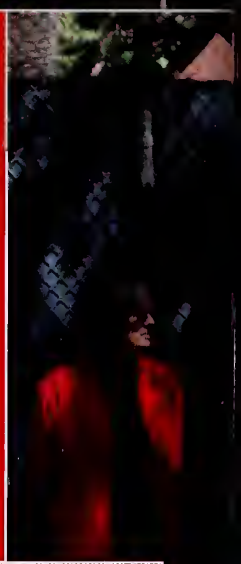
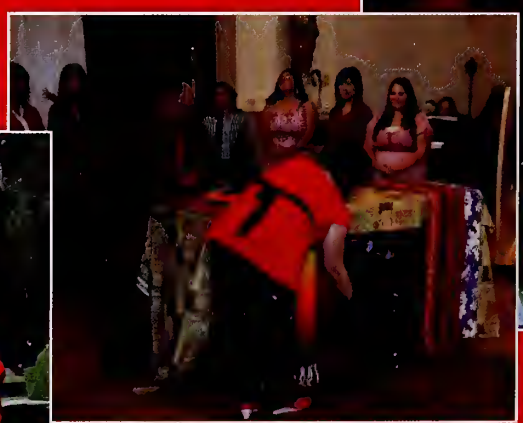
MASS of the HOLY SPIRIT

The Mount Community pulled out their RED shirts, skirts, necklaces, scarfs and even some red shoes to celebrate the Mass of the Holy Spirit on September 25 on the South Lawn of the Doheny Campus and on September 27 in the Mary Chapel of the Chalon Campus.

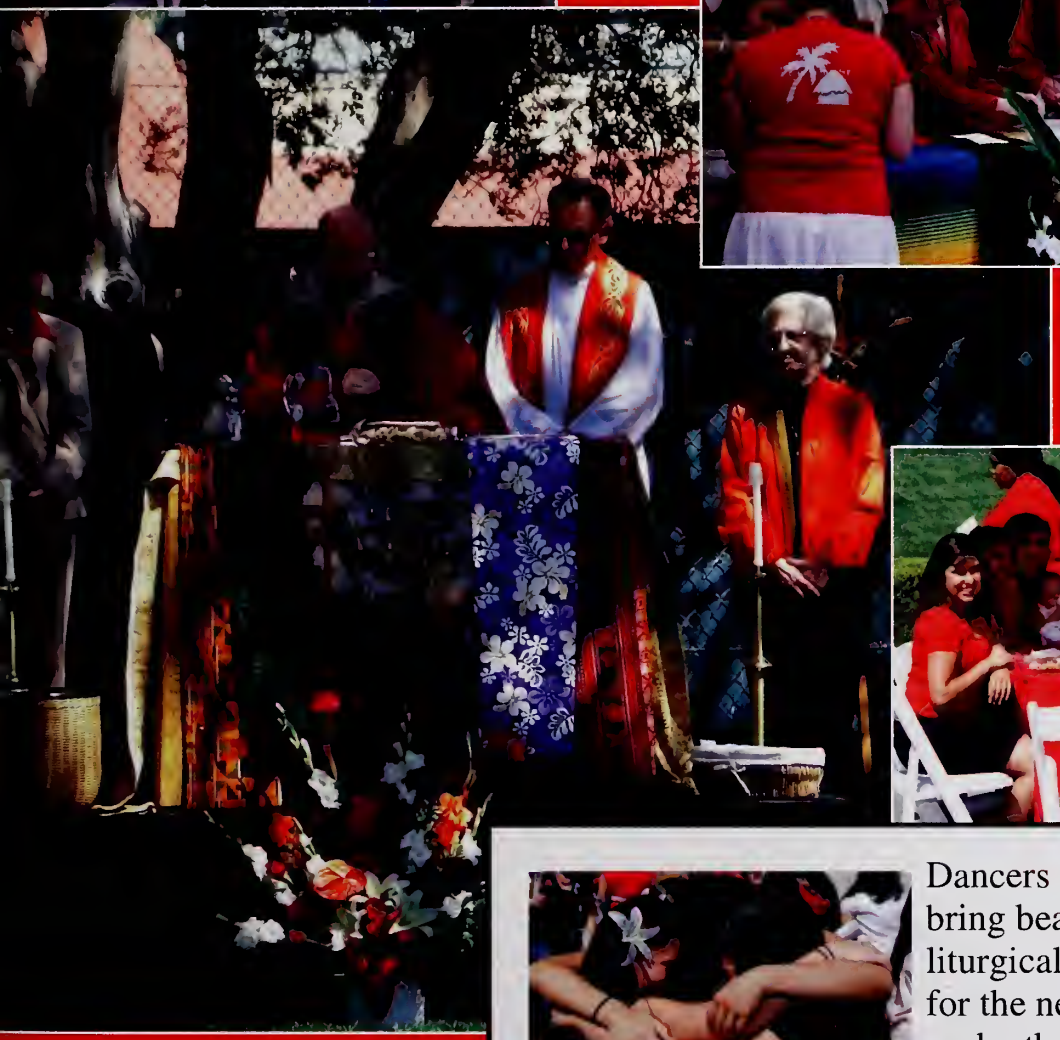


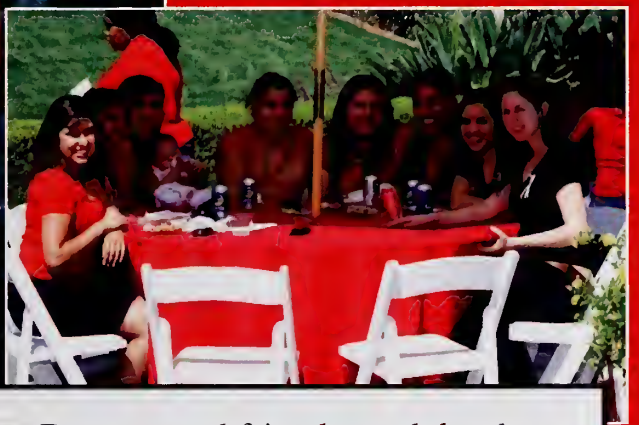


Members of our diverse Mount community, led by dancers, bring forward representative ethnic cloths to dress the altar during the gifts procession.



Both campuses celebrated this mass with prayer, song and dance.





Dancers and friends work hard to bring beauty to the Mount's liturgical celebrations. In thanks for the new year, they embrace each other while others gather around the table to enjoy lunch.

ISAE Presents...

Breaking the Cypher

"BREAKING THE CYPHER" means to dance in a circle. But, it also means to break away from limitations, to redefine one's self, and to manifest a new and vibrant style." This lively dance group provided the audience with a fresh and expressive vision of the hip hop culture.

"Breaking the Cypher was great because I got to hang out with the girls and watch a great show. It was a new and refreshing experience for me"

"WICKED"
October 26, 2007

Students attend Wicked, a play based on the untold story of Oz.

" 'Wicked' was really fun. The most memorable part was the whole play itself and just being with the ISAE family and watching a great play was very fun!"

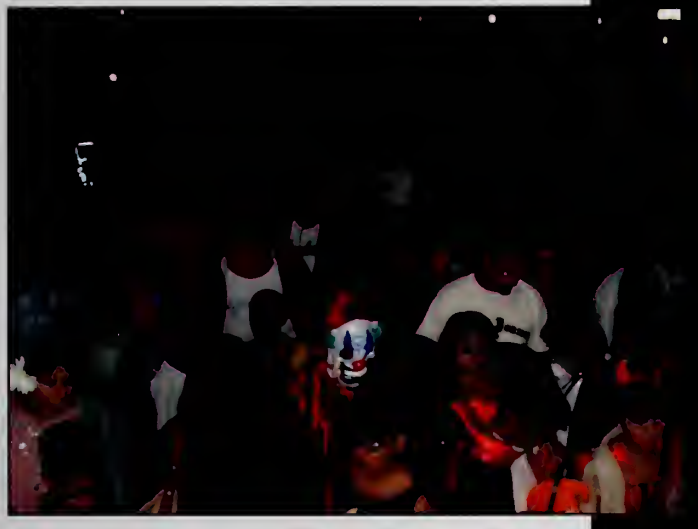
Doheny Halloween

The Los Angeles community enjoyed a walk through the Haunted House, which was set-up by Doheny students, staff and volunteers.

Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa dropped by the Doheny Haunted Campus. The Mayor is pictured with freshman, Angelica Cossyleon and President Jacqueline Powers Doud.

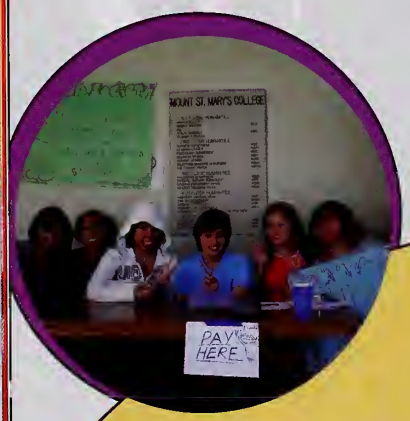
MSMC students helped pass out candy to the little ghosts, princesses and pirates.



WOW! Over 8,000 pounds of candy was donated for this event!

What's Happenin'

"Meet me in the Circle" is one of the most commonly heard phrases around the Chalon campus. The Circle is a meeting place for friends, best cell phone reception, club fundraisers and a game or two. This year the Circle saw many different activities from Welcome Week in August to Lighting of the Circle in December to Athenian Day in March. On any given day you can find activity from buying gifts to food for anyone! Athenian Day brought Olympic Class Games, traditional Greek food and toga making. The Circle is definitely the center of campus life!



Clubs are always selling delicious treats like Boba, Krispy Kreme Donuts, pizza, tamales and other bake sale items. Not only is the Circle a great place to hang out but it also has some of the best views on campus. From the Circle you can see snow on Mountain High or the beautiful Pacific Ocean view.The Circle is the place on campus for people to meet, friends to catch-up and fatty foods to enjoy.

In the Circle?!?!

What's for dinner? Etiquette!

You are cordially invited to the 2007 Etiquette Dinner

Table manners play an important part in making a favorable impression. They are visible signals of the state of our manners and therefore are essential to professional success. Regardless of whether we are having lunch with a prospective employer or dinner with a business associate, our manners can speak volumes about us as professionals.

Source: Don't Slurp Your Soup: A Basic Guide to Business Etiquette. Betty Craig. 1991

The 11th Annual Etiquette Dinner on November 15, 2007 was open to all MSMC students and endeavored to teach them to feel comfortable conducting themselves professionally in a formal business setting. Over a seven course meal, students learned which fork to use and how to network with professionals. This year's guest speaker, Alice Seebach, Esq. spoke to students about the importance of grace. Overall, it was a magical evening in which students, staff, alumnae and administration came together under the Tiffany glass dome of the Pompeian Room to share wonderful food and learn about etiquette.

The residence halls at Chalon have been remodeled with new furniture, paint and carpeting. In Brady Hall, there is a newly installed AC/Heating system, remodeled mail room (which feels like a real post office) and bigger dining hall. Also, Brady 1st lounge has recently undergone a makeover which consists of a plasma television for your viewing pleasure and white boards to use for those midnight study sessions.

The Residence Desk, located on the Brady 1st floor, is always staffed with helpful students. The Residence Life Staff is a great resource to address residents' questions and concerns about living on campus and truly make this a great home away from home!

Dorm Life @ Doheny

Hannon Hall is a new addition to the Doheny Campus. The new Residence Life Office is located on the first floor. If residents ever need anything, the friendly staff is there to help!

Cool furniture and a plasma screen television adorne the large lounge on the first floor, which sits adjacent to the kitchen. Residents can take advantage of the study room and laundry room on the second floor. Dorm life never looked or felt so good!

"I wanted to enhance my college experience. Also Residence Life seemed to be the 'it' organization on campus."

What are some qualities an RA should have when holding this position?

"An RA should always be around and committed. Also being creative and organized are a must. An RA should relate to others and be able to establish long-term relationships with her fellow classmates."

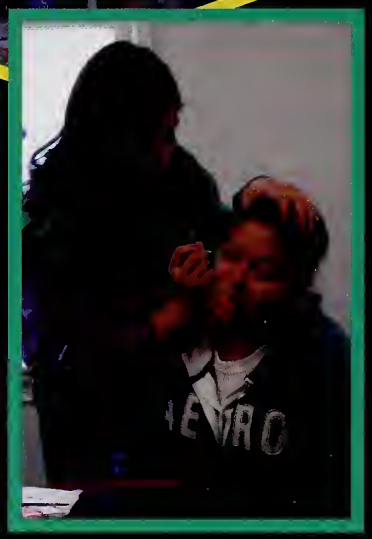
Mardi Gras



The Mount's celebration on February 5, sponsored by Campus Ministry, included mask and necklace making, music, treats in many offices and in the cafeterias and decor throughout both campuses.

Mardi Gras is French for "Fat Tuesday," the day to clean out the cupboards and have a final wonderful party before the season of Lent begins. The days before Lent are also known as "Carnival," a word that means "farewell to meat!" Mardi Gras is often a time for wearing masks and colorful, even outrageous clothing.

The city of New Orleans has elevated this celebration of Mardi Gras to such a high art form that many of their traditions such as the throwing of beads from floats and the playing of jazz, have become parts of the festival throughout the country.

In many cultures wearing costumes can be a symbol of the Christian vision of life, where fools are wise, the poor are rich and commoners become royalty. Removing the costumes is also a powerful symbol of removing whatever keeps our true selves hidden.

At midnight of Mardi Gras, the masks come off and Lent is welcomed. The season of Lent is when we can see ourselves and each other as we truly are!

The King Cake is believed to have originated in France around the 12th Century. These early Europeans celebrated the coming of the three wise men bearing gifts 12 days after Christmas calling it the Feast of the Epiphany, Twelfth Night or King's Day.

The main part of the celebration was the baking of a King's Cake to honor the three Kings. The cakes were made circular to portray the circular route used by the Kings to get to the Christ Child, which was taken to confuse King Herod (who was trying to follow the wise men so he could kill the Christ Child). In these early King Cakes, a bean, pea or coin was hidden inside the cake. The person who found the hidden piece was declared King for the day or was said to have good luck in the coming year.

In Louisiana, Twelfth Night also signifies the beginning of the carnival season, which ends with Mardi Gras Day. The bean, pea and coin have been replaced by a small plastic baby to symbolize the Chirst Child. The person who gets the baby is expected to carry on the carnival festivities by hosting the next King Cake party.

Mount Community Night 2008: Hollywood Walk of Fame!

March 27, 2008 was an evening of grand performances in Hannon Theater on the Chalon campus. The theater was transformed into the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Eddie Grigorian hosted the extravagant event, and our very own Daniel Aucutt, Dr. Lingua, and Professor Michelle Melendres judged the performers.

Performances included lively dances by the groups such as "Last Minute", Na Pua O Ka 'Aina and African American Council of Women. There was beautiful singing by the group "Willow Branch Lane" and Natasha Mendez. Hillarious skits were performed by Phi Alpha Delta and Merrisa Alaniz, Danielle Batol, Ashley Brown, Bryanna Harringer and Rebecca Perez.

And the award goes to... (drum roll please)... Third place was given to the dance group "Last Minute", Na Pua O Ka 'Aina received second place, and last but not least, first place was awarded to AACW and their dance tribute to African American music. Stephanie Juson and Debani Oliveras said, "We can't wait for the Willow Branch Lane CD to come out. They were our favorite!" While Paola Guzman said, "If you didn't get to go, you missed out on all the fun! I will go again for sure next year!"

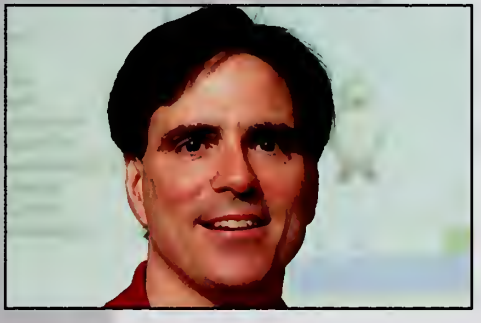
The Man of Change versus the Champion for Women:

Two of the most notable presidential hopefuls- Senators Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton trade barbs over the war in Iraq, health care, education and immigration.This election is historical with John McCain as the Republican candidate. Who's got your vote?

"Rock the Vote" was one of the Town Halls during spring semester.

Jennifer Ward of the Chalon Associated Student Body noted: "I am not extremely political but my message to the student body would be to first learn about your candidate and make sure he or she is the type of person that you want in office. What does he or she stand for socially and politically? Is the change that he or she wants something that they will really work towards and is it positive change? Do they represent you in a way that you would like to be represented? The elections are so important, whomever is elected will preside over us for the next four years- it is our decision and our voice... this is our chance especially as young voters and Americans to have our voices heard. VOTE!"

Nobel Peace Prize Winner, Al Gore, has inspired a "go green" campaign that has gone global



"Really Achieving Your Childhood Dreams..."

One month after Professor Randy Pausch of Carnegie Mellon University was diagnosed with terminal cancer, he gave the best lecture of his life.
Dubbed "Really Achieving Your Childhood Dreams," the speech quickly became an Internet phenomenon, drawing in more than six million hits since September 2007.

Pilipino Cultural Night

"PCN" is the acronym for Pilipino Cultural Night. This event is Pangkat Pilipino's biggest highlight of the entire school year. Everyone from students to faculty to family are exposed to the Filipino culture through lively dances and costumes, hilarious acting, Filipino dance music and of course, Filipino food! Those involved have described their experiences in creating PCN as "heart-warming," "rewarding" and "SUPER fun!" It's a wonderful way for the students involved to learn the cultural dances, language and lifestyle and become like FAMILY, creating relationships that will last forever."

"Lu'au is an annual event held by Na Pua O Ka 'Aina, the Hawai'ian club of the Chalon campus. This huge event is an opportunity to share the Polynesian culture with whoever is happy to attend and support us. Lu'au is a full-on feast and show, complete with dances and games for the crowd. All of the performers are members of our club and work really hard to bring this incredible event to the Mount. In addition to bringing awareness to our Hawai'ian culture, we also share with everybody the strong feeling of home and family that the club holds true. A lu'au is a feast but even more so a celebration and a way that we give thanks to all the things and people we've been lucky enough to have in our lives."

Mary's Day celebration begins with a prayer & reading

Mary's Day is the annual celebration in which the college honors the woman for whom it is named - Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Throughout the years, Mount St. Mary's has honored Mary in recognizing students who exemplify her spirit of courage, inspiration, service and dedication to the development of their unique gifts.

As family and friends, faculty and administration join together in celebrating the achievements of Mount students, we also join together with Mary, who walked new paths with grace and determination, bringing life to the world - and who surely delights with us in students who do the same.

Congratulations to all recipients and thank you to the Student Affairs & Campus Ministry staff for this beautiful event!

Laurel Day is the traditional end-of-the-year celebration for the Doheny campus of Mount St. Mary's College. Modeled on the ancient Greek custom of bestowing laurel wreaths on the heads of victors in the Olympic games, this day is designated as a time to recognize our graduates and those receiving special honors. Originating in 1974, this day has continually celebrated the students of Doheny, with faculty, staff, administration and family joining in the festivities.

Well Lupe, It's so hard to believe that this day has come, it seems like just yesterday we welcomed you into our lives. Your first day of school, we all took off in the morning to go with you. You did great! (Not so, for Mom) That first day, you came home with big dreams and goals for your life; and you haven't stopped. Our fifth born in a family of six, you quickly took on the role of big sister to all, even Mom (thanks). Suddenly you were graduating from High School and looking at colleges. I remember how nervous you were the day we went to the Mount; and calling Dad to tell him you got in. What a Godsend the Mount Family has been. So, here comes your first day as a commuter, I got ready that morning to take you, and when we got there, you didn't let me walk you to class. I cried all the way home. You have proven to be such an exceptional young lady. I don't know many people at your age who have been faced with so many challenges, and can still manage to excel in all you do. You truly are an inspiration to everyone whose life you touched, and continue to. We are so proud of you. May God continue to guide and bless you in every step you take. We love you much, Dad & M...

Dearest Lupe, I am truly proud of you! You are such an inherent part of our lives and I thank God for blessing us having you in our lives and friendship. They say the older she is, the wiser he [illegible] But you are a young, intelligent, smart, and beautiful woman as young and wise as you [illegible] You've taught me the importance of faith, strong family ties, and how to learn about parenting, even how to be a better wife. I can't wait to see all that you will [illegible] this world. May God bless you always! With all of my love and admiration Becky Cosio

We Love you, Lupe! We knew you could do it. Congratulations!
Sandra, Margarita, Jesse & Michael

Nina Lupe! Good job, good girl. She is a great Nina. Thank you! We love you!
Jacob & Samantha

Congratulations Lupe! You did it! I never doubted you. You're such a strong woman and your faith in God has kept you going. God Bless you, Mija. Lots of love, Grandma Rachel

Lupe.
Success always means more when it happens to someone special. When your parents asked me to be your godmother, I was truly honored. It gives me great pleasure in congratulating you in reaching these milestones. Your graduation is in some ways the ending, but this is only the beginning. Congratulations in achieving the best kind of success. Love always. Nini

Congratulations Lupe! You've made us all so proud!
Love, Grandpa Ben

Congratulations to my one and only sister! I am so proud of you and I love you mucho! Love, your sister, Jovan

My beautiful Niece, I cannot put into words how proud I am of your successes and your determination. I know you know there is nothing you cannot achieve if you want it bad enough. You have proved that and I am so proud to say that you are my daughter – [illegible]! Love you Mija, keep it up!
Love always, Tia Nilsa

"Always do right, this will gratify some and astonish others." Mark Twain

Dear Lupe. I am so proud of you, and I love you so much! It's an honor to call you my big sister. I wanted to be the first of our brothers and sisters to graduate from college, but since you're older, you were. But, you've showed me that anything is possible, and you will continue to help me in my struggle to finish school. Get into college, and start my life.
Love always, your little brother, Alex

Little Sis, I just want you to know how important you are to me; and how proud of you I am that you have always made the right choices. You're a very special sister and your journey has just begun. I love you very much and I'm here for you always. I may not be there in person but I'm there in heart and soul.
Love, your big brother, Joseph

Beautiful Baby Sis, I can't even express how very proud of you I am. I know I'm your older brother, but I admire and look up to you. Your kind heart and your desire to help people is just so rare and one of your many beautiful qualities. I know that you're going to succeed in anything that you put your heart & soul into, because that is the type of person you are. I love you very much. Love, your brother, Skip

Lupe, Congratulations on your graduation. You are one of the few to achieve this goal in our family and we are so proud of you. Love you much, Melissa

Tia Lupe, We all love you very much. Thank you for being such a great Tia to all of us, and an even greater Nina to one of us. Congratulations!

Commencement

Right. This year's commencement speaker, Anita L. DeFrantz, is an Olympic medalist, community activist and the first woman in the history of the International Olympic Committee to serve as its Vice President. According to Mount President, Jacqueline Powers Doud, DeFrantz "is an inspiring leader who has set the bar high for women around the globe... she is truly a role model for our students - and shows that one person can make a difference both on the larger stage and in our own community."

Congratulations

Daddy & Mommy

My dearest Pamela Kay,

I can never adequately describe what you mean to me. Each moment that passes with you in my life makes me happier that I am with you, every minute I spend with you makes me better than I was before. You spark an irrepressible happiness in my heart that has lasted for all these years and I know will last for many more.

Your life, your existence, your growth and progression, are all priceless gifts that bless my life, and the lives of so many, on a daily basis. Not a day goes by (not a single one) that I don't thank my Father in Heaven for sending you to earth and for bringing us together. The world is better, the grass greener, the air sweeter, the love stronger, because you and your pure heart are here. Never forget how truly wonderful you are, Pamela.

You truly are a beautiful, sweet spirit. The light that comes through in your shining eyes is a gift of joy and strength to the many, many people you have already touched in your life. Your smile brings a warmth and a comfort that breaks the night like the golden sun.

A true man of God once called woman "the crowning glory of all His creations." Every day I spend with you convinces me that he was right.

All my love,
Scott

Marites,

Our BEBE is graduating, where did the years go.... Today you are the class of 2008 and getting your college diploma.

CONGRATULATIONS!!! We are so proud of you.

Thanks so much for all the great memories. You have a smile that will light up a room; you are sensitive, caring and loving and at times it is hard to realize that you are no longer our little girl. I know all through your years of college has been really hard one for you...losing your Dad, but you have grown stronger and that you have a very special guardian angel. I know he's been watching over you all these years and joining us today in spirit to celebrate your graduation. The love and happiness that you have brought into our lives is immeasurable. You have entertained us with your animated spirit for 22 years, both on and off stage with your beautiful voice, the charismatic style that lights up a stage, or our church, your dancing and ALL of you.

We love you,

Mom, Dad in spirit and Grandma

My little girl is now a woman graduating from college. I knew you would go to college and be successful when you were just an infant laying in front of the television watching Sesame Street. I knew you would be successful when you were 4 years old reading on a 2nd grade level. I know you will continue to excel in life because you are very intelligent and have been since birth.

I am so very proud of you, my baby girl,

Sharde Giovanni Bivans

A. A fitting conclusion
The saga of boy wizard Harry Potter came to an end with the final book in the series, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, being released by author J.K. Rowling to much fanfare. More than 11 million copies sold in the first 24 hours. As the books wrapped up, the movies continued. Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix became a huge hit at the box office.

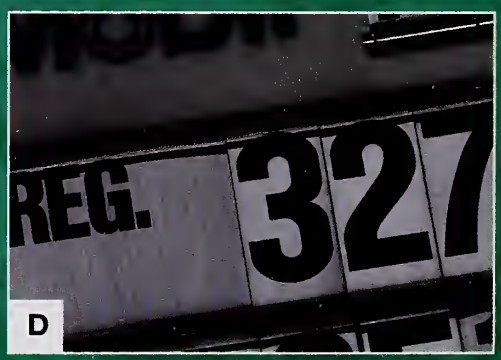
B. A tainted king?
San Francisco Giants slugger Barry Bonds hit his 756th home run and passed the long-standing all-time record of Hank Aaron. However, the historical mark was not widely celebrated as Bonds continued to be the subject of speculation about steroid use during his career. Later, he was even indicted for perjury related to the federal investigation into steroids.

B

C. War goes on
In the war on terror, more than 165,000 U.S. troops were stationed in Iraq and approximately 25,000 in Afghanistan. The number of U.S. troops killed in Iraq began to decrease monthly, likely caused by changes in strategy in the fight against the insurgents.

C

D. Rising prices
More pain was inflicted at the gas pumps, as the national average price for one gallon of gasoline reached as high as $3.20, almost 90 cents more than one year ago. Jumps in adjustable rate mortgages also left many homeowners behind or unable to pay their monthly house payments.



D

E. Twice as nice
Three years after erasing the 86-year "Curse of the Bambino" and ending one of the longest title droughts in sports history, the Boston Red Sox did it again by sweeping the Colorado Rockies to win its second World Series in four years. Boston rang up the best record in baseball during the regular season, and then beat the Rockies, who had won 21 of its previous 22 games.

E

More than 11.5 million toys made in China were recalled for containing lead and posing choking hazards.

Former Vice President Al Gore won the Nobel Peace Prize for his work on informing the public about global warming.

After 19 seasons on TV, The Simpsons first movie was a huge hit, earning nearly $200 million.

Democracy was threatened in Pakistan prior to elections, and amid the turmoil former Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto was assassinated.

One year before the 2008 presidential election, Democrat Hillary Clinton and Republican Rudy Guiliani were in the lead in most polls.

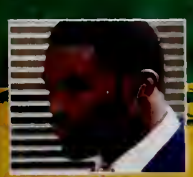
F. TV stalls out
The TV Writers Guild of America went on strike over a dispute with the TV studios regarding the sharing of profits from "new media" revenue sources, including the internet. With no new scripts coming in, many shows were forced off the air and into reruns.

G. MRSA
Schools across the country began dealing with a drug-resistant staph superbug called methicillen-resistant Staphylococcus aureus, or MRSA. Some schools closed for cleaning when students were found to have the bacteria. MRSA caused several student deaths.

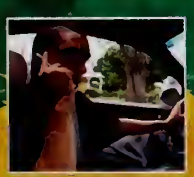
H. California wildfires
More than 23 wildfires blazed across almost 500,000 acres of southern California in October, destroying 2,300 homes. Twelve people died. Arson was the cause of some of the fires. Santa Ana winds also fueled fires again in late November.

I. Drying up
A severe drought in the southeast U.S. led to water use restrictions and renewed tensions over water supplies in Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The drought was the worst in northern Georgia in 100 years.

J. Meet you online
Social networking websites continued to gain popularity and added millions of subscribers who ventured online to interact. Two of the largest, MySpace and Facebook, even developed a budding business rivalry. Facebook gained the backing of Microsoft, who bought a stake in the website for $240 million.



Michael Vick was arrested for running a dog-fighting ring, and suspended from the NFL for a full season.



California banned teens ages 17 and under from using their cell phones while driving.

British soccer star David Beckham joined the L.A. Galaxy, then suffered an injury-plagued first season.

Beekeepers and scientists were puzzled by, and continued to study, the problem of dwindling honeybees.

Disney's High School Musical 2 drew 17.2 million viewers on opening night, the most ever for a cable program.

May the road rise to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
The rain fall soft upon your fields.
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of his hand.

Diane Kelley was a member of the Mount community for nearly twenty years. She dedicated herself as the Payroll Manager at the Chalon Campus.

She was a dear friend to many poeple at Mount St. Mary's College and will be missed greatly.

Eternal rest grant unto Diane, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon her. May she rest in peace. Amen.

In Memory

For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.
Romans 8:38-39 (RSV)
